

From the Manager

Lee Martinez

How well do you swim? It is a question you might be asked if you are near a body of water that is over your head like a pool or lake. But it is almost useless to ask as you leave the dock on a day boat, a vacation ocean liner, or a naval shakedown cruise. If you have done any of these can you remember your first time thoughts as you moved further out to sea? As the shoreline became smaller on the horizon you knew you had gone past the point where your swimming could save you. How long did you keep looking toward shore, longing for something solid and familiar beneath your feet? Do you remember trying to get use to the rolling of the ship? Okay that's enough visual, ugh.

How long did it take you to notice something else? Like the more experienced passengers and the crew who seemed to be enjoying the journey, doing things that seemed comfortable to them. They were getting ready for adventure. It was almost like they were back on shore without the cares of going into deep water. Did you notice the captain and the executive officer who were in charge of the direction and safety of the cruise? They were being more vigilant in a different direction than you had been as you longed for the shore. This trip was in the hands of professionals. It was time for you to move on and start focusing on why you stepped on board in the first place. Like the other passengers, start doing the things that you could talk about when you got back to shore and shared your encounter on a seaworthy craft, led by an experienced crew.

It's beginning to be fun floating in all this water on the only dry spot for miles. Are you glad you stepped aboard? There are some that had the chance you took but stayed on shore.

There is a song you will hear on WCIF that sets a goal, "I want to know you more". I hope you will sing along with meaning the next time you hear it because one line says, "take me out to deeper water . . ."

If you were looking for the next step in your Christian experience what would it be? What are you interested in or what step might you take to further the cause of

Psalm 33:5-9
He loves righteousness and justice; the earth is full of the steadfast love of the LORD.
By the word of the LORD the heavens were made, and by the breath of his mouth all their host.
He gathers the waters of the sea as a heap; he puts the deeps in storehouses.
Let all the earth fear the LORD; let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him!
For he spoke, and it came to be; he commanded, and it stood firm.

Christ? What personal things would you like to know about the Lord who redeemed you? There are some things that can only be given to you by a direct contact with the living Lord? Look for God to show you which vessel He is preparing that will take you beyond yourself and totally dependant as His safe passenger. Step aboard, the water's confined. The colors have been transferred and it's time to get underway. The Captain is on the bridge.

Hebrews 5:12 - 6:1

For though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you again the basic principles of the oracles of God. You need milk, not solid food, for everyone who lives on milk is unskilled in the word of righteousness, since he is a child. But solid food is for the mature, for those who have their powers of discernment trained by constant practice to distinguish good from evil.

Therefore let us leave the elementary doctrine of Christ and go on to maturity ...

For more than 65 years, Wycliffe Bible Translators has been working around the world to translate the scriptures into the languages of the world. There are still more than 2,200 languages without a single verse. Wycliffe's Last Languages Campaign hopes to raise the resources necessary to prepare new missionaries and provide the materials necessary to begin each of these remaining languages by 2025.

"Wycliffe: Unlocking God's Word for the least, the last, the lost" is a 54-minute documentary.

You can sense the heart of many of our staff because you hear them on the air. Seldom do you get to hear from our support team who mean so much to us and the cause of Christ. Our dedicated engineer Jim Grossmann would like you to know what is on his heart. Perhaps his words could lead you to reach out to the Savior as a result. Lee Martinez problems we face today. But Romans 10:1-13 describes the greatest of all crises we will ever face – that we will perish without our right-standing with God. Yes, we do have troubles in our lives, but our one true crisis is that without having our sin resolved by Jesus' sacrifice on the cross - without faith in Him as the Savior who made us clean by God's grace – we will be separated from God forever. Our greatest crisis is that we need a Savior. His name is Jesus. Come to Him today!

Jim Grossmann, WCIF Engineer

I came to know the difference in having a relationship vs religion through your teachings. May God continue to BLESS you all and thank you.

Vero Beach – I can't say thank you enough. I love driving to work and listening to 106.3 FM.

Cocoa – I pray that our Lord God bless each and everyone that gets up every single day to deliver the word of pureness and love from WCIF.

Titusville, FL – What a blessing to find songs of grace and comfort and peace to my heart. So much hype out there, WCIF is refreshing and draws your heart to the Lord.

Vila Velha – Brasil – we are praying for this radio station that has Jesus speaking in our hearts.

Otsego, Michigan – It is a great station. It reminds me of a station I listened to in Chat. Tenn. You keep up the good work and I am sure the Lord is blessing the people that listen to the station.

Phoenix, Arizona – We haven't found any Christian radio out here that has the quality of programing like WCIF. John has a job out here . . .
